Tonga Twister

This heart-pounding water slide features fully enclosed aqualucent tubes that deliver an electrifying sight and sound experience, the first of its kind in Texas. Plunge from a height of over 50 feet, then surge around approximately 400 feet of twists and turns that are sure to leave you pumped for more!

Walhalla Wave

A first of its kind in North America, this family clover-tube ride sends guests soaring through watery waves to the top of a zero-gravity wall, giving riders the sense of weightlessness.

Riptide Race

This heart-stopping waterslide pits teams against each other in a splash to the finish line. Guests can challenge friends and family members to see which team feels the rush of watery victory! It all starts atop a 51-foot tower, where guests grab a two-person raft before racing through 565 feet of slides with low walls to keep an eye on the opponent. It's a dash to the splash as they compete in this side-by-side raft run through high-speed tunnels, twists, and turns. Racing through each turn in a down-to-the-wire finish, this fast-paced, high-speed adventure is one to experience again and again.

Feel the rush as you free fall down through an exhilarating race to the finish.

Taumata Racer

It's a high-speed waterslide where riders zoom downhill head first on foam bodysurfing mats. It's also a competitive ride with six side-by-side lanes. Taumata Racer launches riders in an entry tunnel that makes a swooping, 180-degree turn, then straightens out to make two additional descents over the 375-foot slide length and 55-foot drop in under 10 seconds.

National Medal of Honor Museum NOW OPEN! 1861 AT&T Way Arlington, TX

Having opened in March, the museum showcases the Medal of Honor recipients and their stories of valor and inspiration in the face of impossible odds. This $270 million, 100,000-square foot museum is the only one in the nation devoted to sharing the stories of more than 500 recipients of the Medal of Honor, America's highest military decoration for valor in combat. With fewer than 4,000 people receiving this honor out of the 41 million Americans who have served in the U.S. Armed Forces, The National Medal of Honor Museum tells the stories of these heroes in ways that will impact you for years to come. These soldiers risked, and, in many cases, sacrificed, their lives to save their fellow soldiers and others.

The Museum is a must-see Arlington experience, designed by world-renowned architect Rafael Viñoly. The 101,000-square-foot footprint encompasses 25,000 square feet of exhibition galleries, a state-of-the-art Education Center, conference and event space, and an outdoor amphitheater for ceremonies. Visit, www.mohmuseum.org to read more about the unique design of the museum, which is supported by five columns at the entrance, representing each branch of the military. These outdoor columns recede to a small point at the bottom, symbolizing the individual acts of courage to be honored within.
